POLICE ARE STILL PUZZLED.

THEY THINK RICHARDSON WAS EITHER

IMPOSED UPON OR IS A MEMBER OF A DARING GANG OF SWINDLERS. larry Richardson, the man who is under arrest charged with attempting to pass a fraudulent note for $50 upon P. W. Taylor, a Fulton-st. jeweller, secured an adjournment of his examination for one week in the Adams Street Police Court yester-

The more they investigate the more the Brooklyn police are puzzled by Richardson's case. They are convinced that he has either been imposed upon or is a member of one of the best-organized and most daring gang of swindlers that has operated for They believe that one of the most celebrated note swindlers in the country is at the head

Richardson gives his living address as Jamaica and bis business address at No. 13 Broadway. He gives his occupation as contractor. At No. 13 Broadway they say he was went to drop in only occasionally. Richardson's home is in Jamaica-ave, west of Jamaica village. Mr. Cooper, a florist, recently sued him, it is a leged, and obtained judgment against him.

CANNOT GET HIS CHILD.

BROOKLYN MAN BEGINS PROCEEDINGS AGAINST HIS FIRST WIFE'S PARENTS.

Brooklyn, to-day instituted habens corpus pro-ceedings against his first wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Schnick, of this city, requiring them and show cause why they should not surrender their grandehild to its father. Zdunek married a second time and says he has a good home in Brooklyn, but he has had trouble in securing his children.

A year ago he succeeded in getting out of town with his daughter, twelve years old. His first wife's parents had a warrant issued for his arrest, alleging he would "bring the child up in sin," but he was not overtaken by the police. The child he now seeks the custody of is about five years old. Its guardians will not let its father see it.

Many of the roadsides on Long Island are just habit of looking on as a worthless weed. It is against the rules to carry flowers into or out of the direction of Coney Island with trophies in the shape of dogwood branches are compelled to take there are many dogwood trees in the park that there are many dogwood trees in the park and the blossoming branches might be obtained surreptitiously on the forbidden ground. This is not the case with goldenrod. Handsome as it is, it is not one of the flowers cultivated in Prospect Park, and there is no chance of any one plucking it there. So the police look on indifferently as bicycle after bleyele glides by adarned with bouquets of a flower which enjoys so great a populatity that it has received many votes in compelitions held for the purpose of determining what should be our National flower. Probably each one of these riders would be prepared to vote for the goldenrod, or solldago, at this season of the year, at all events.

FUNERAL OF DR. HOLSTEN.

The funeral of Dr. George Dederic Holsten was H. Holsten, No. 836 Patnam-ave. The Rev. Dr. Bosh, pastor of St. John Church, at Prospect Place and Seventh-ave, officiated. Dr. Holsten died at Beaumaris, Ont., on August 21, after an illness time, acting upon professional advice, Dr. Holsten travelled in this country and abroad in search of health, but he was in no way benefited by his wanderings.

He was born in New-York in 1857. He entered the University of New-York in 1879, and was graduated in 1882. Soon afterward he became an interne at a hospital, where he remained eighteen months. Subsequently he became a specialist in ermatology, and won much success in his chosen Dermatological Society and editor of a paper devoted to the interests of the science. Dr. Holsten was at different times connected with the Eastern District and Brooklyn Throat hospitals. He was also a member of the Long Island Medical Society, the Charity Hospital. Alumni Association and the Amphion Musical Society. His wife, mother and brother survive him.

Burial will take place at 10 o'clock to-day in Greenwood. line of work. He was president of the Brooklyn

HE CHARGES HIS WIFE WITH ASSAULT.

Another chapter was added vesterday in the case Captain Arthur J. Midford and his wife, of For Hamilton, whose troubles have already been told in The Tribune. The captain is at the head of the Midford Pheumatic Wrecking and Salvage Com-pany, of No. 241 Broadway, New-York, and his wife is suing him for separation. Mrs. Midford tried to horsewhip Miss Du Puy, a typewriter in the employ of her husbend, on Sunday a week ago, and last Sunday the captain alleges she struck him several times in the face while he was walking along the Shore Road. Fort Hamilton, with Miss Du Puy. As a result, the captain appeared before Justice Rhodes yesterday morning and secured a warrant for the arrest of his wife on a charge of assault.

Mrs. Midford will appear before Justice Rhodes to morrow to answer to the charge of assault made by her husband.

PREPARING TO SUE FOR DAMAGES.

John W. Carty has been appointed guardian of his infant daughter, Alice Carty, by Justice Goodrich of the Supreme Court. Alice was playing in the street a few days ago when the infant son of Mrs. Mary Unl, riding a bicycle, ran into her and threw her down. The child was severely injured. Mr. Carty wants to sue Mrs. Uhl for damages.

THE WING WILL CONTEST.

The contest over the will of Lydia Wing, an eccentric old woman who died at Sheepshead Bay preme Court and a jury will determine whether use of liquor when she made the will. Annie E. use of liquor when she made the win Annie E. Barrington, one of several nephews and nieces who were disinherited by Mrs. Wing, has begun an action to have the will declared void. Surrogate Abbott, after a long contest, admitted the will to probate. The estate is valued at $23,000.

THE POSTPONED FIRE CARNIVAL.

The unfavorable condition of the weather last compelled a postponement of the seventeenth annual carnival of fire until Thursday evening. If the skies are clear on that night one of the finest fireworks exhibits ever seen in this part of the country be expected.

THE MASONIC ORDER. Colonel Henry L. Cranford, who died on Sunday at his home, No. 1,524 Park-st., Mount Pleasant, a suburb of Washington, was an old Brooklynite, and well known in Grant Army and Masonic circles, of both of which he was a conspicuous member. Although it is nearly twenty years since he left this city and made his home at the National capital, he is still gratefully remembered here by his comrades and brethren for his sterling qualities as a ganizations.

Colonel Cranford entered the service as lieutenant and quartermaster of the old 14th Militia (the 84th New-York Volunteers), in May, 1851, and served with his regiment in the Army of the Potomac, participating in the battles of Bull Run, Falmouth, Rappahannock Station, Sulphur Springs, Gainesville, Groveton, Manassas, South Mountain, Antietam and Fredericksburg. In March, 1863, he was appointed captain and commissary of subsistence, United States Volunteers, remaining on duty with the Army of the Potomac until assigned to the staff of General Merritt as chief commissary of the First Cavalry Division of the Army of the Shenandoah, under General Sheridan. In this position he took part in all the engagements of this army, including Cedar Creek, Fisher's Hill and the famous victory at Winchester. He was present, also, at the surrender at Appomattox. At the close of the war he was honorably discharged, receiving the brevet of major and lieutenant-colonel for faithful and meritorious service. He was wounded three times, and had several horses shot from under him while with Sheridan in the Shenandoah in 1864.

After returning from the war he lived in Brooklyn for several years, and then moved to Washington, where he engaged in the business of patent ton, where he engaged in the business of patent street, paving and as a Government contractor. He was made a Master Mason in Kane Lodge, New-York. In the home of his adoption he was a companion of the Loyal Leglon, a member of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, a governor of the Army and Naty Club, a prominent Mason and an honored citizen.

He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Munn, and who was a native of Montelair, N. J., and by two sons. His functal will be held at 3 p. m. to-day from No. 16 Eighth-ave., Brooklyn, and the burial will be in the family plot in Greenwood.

LONG ISLAND NEWS.

THE SEWER IS FALLING IN.

Commission yesterday when it was announced that the big and costly sewer recently put under Broadway in that city was slowly caving in and that portions of the arch to the bottom of the sewer. A committee was at once appointed by the Board to investigate the building of this sewer and other transactions of the Board which preceded the report that stirred the Commissioners He stated that an examination of the Broadway sewer had revealed the fact that the bricks were falling from the top of the srch and that fully 30,000 had already fallen. It was only a matter of time, the engineer reported, when the sewer would cave in. As it was at present it was dangerous to man and in which he asserted that the contractors who built the Broadway sewer, Sheehan & O'Brien. that $39,685.55 had been paid them on account of extras in the paving of Broadway, and that all extras in the paying of Broadway, and that all the extras were really for sewer work. The assistant engineer expressed the helief there was collusion on the part of the hispectors who passed the work.

Mayor Gleason addressed the Commission, saying it would appear that the old Board had paid between $150,000 and $20,000 more than should have been paid. He asserted that the collusion existed between the Commissioners and the contractors and not between the inspectors and some one else. The Mayor urged that an investigation be made at once and that an expect he employed to make an examination of the accounts of the old Board.

After some discussion, Commissioners Dowling and Woods were named a committee to take charge of the investigation, with power to hire an accountant to go over the records. It was also practically decided that in case the results warranted such action the matter should be laid before the Grand Jury.

BURGLARS AT ROCKAWAY BEACH. THE SAFE IN THE STATION OF THE LONG ISL-

Burglars entered the Seaside station of the Long Island Rallroad at Rockaway Beach between mid-night of Sunday and 6 o'clock yesterday morn-The safe was blown open and $100 in cash and some railroad tickets were stolen. The money belonged to the Long Island Railroad and the Western Union Telegraph Company. The burglars first forced an entrance into the waiting-room of the station. Then they forced the door of the ticket office and next forced explosives into the crevices of the safe. This completed, they wrapped several horse blankets and other heavy cloths about the safe to deaden the report. The explo-sion forced open both the inner and outer doors of the safe. The money was taken, and then the box containing the railroad tickets was broken open and some tickets abstracted.

The money was that taken in at the railroad and telegraph offices on Saturday and Sunday, It was not much, compared with the number of people of

A BARK DISABLED.

A bark, apparently disabled, drifted close inshore off Iones Inlet, near Freeport, yesterday morning. She ran dangerously near the beach, and the captain dropped anchor. Captain Chichester, of the life-saving station, sent word to New-York and in the afternoon a tug went there and towed the bark toward Sandy Hook. It is supposed she un-shipped her rudder or it was disabled.

LONG BEACH HOTEL'S STORMY CLOSE There was a stormy time at the Long Beach Hotel on Saturday when Manager Murray annunced to the walters, laundry girls and other employes that all his available assets consisted of checks and drafts. which could not be cashed until the banks opened Monday morning. With the aid of the police they were finally pacified, and many of them took the train for New-York City. They were promised their money at the office of the attorney representing Mr. Murray at No. 57 Cedar-st., New-York, as soon as possible after the banks opened yesterday morning At an early hour a crowd of the former employes collected and waited around the attorney's office until noon, when they received 25 per cent of the amount due them, and were assured that the balance would be paid as soon as the affairs of the association are straightened out. At the office of the Long Beach Association it was said that the assets are more than sufficient to meet all liabilities, and that a receiver would not be necessary unless the creditors were disposed to force the association into liquidation. At Long Beach the cottages are all occupied, the bathing pavilion is open, and trains are running as usual William C. De Witt has moved the books and documents relating to the charter of Greater New-York to cottage No. 14, where the work of compiling and revising will be continued without interruption.
